

Don't miss the opening of GRINDHOUSE at the Bridge April 6th with a rare trailer show!

Contributed by Mr. Heck

Get to the Bridge early to catch the ultimate "grindhouse" trailer reel featuring thirty minutes of rare vintage exploitation trailers from the 60's & 70's! This continuous reel of authentic grindhouse trailers begins thirty minutes before each scheduled showtime. Opening weekend giveaways are happening at every show! Trivia contests will precede the feature. Prizes include Grindhouse movie Soundtracks, Grindhouse Movie Posters, the Peaches Christ Short Film Collection DVD featuring her short film "Grindhouse", free movies, popcorn, and more!

ON-HAND NURSE! Due to the shocking nature of this film the management of the Bridge Theatre promise to have a nurse in the lobby of the theatre for the Friday & Saturday evening shows. We anticipate customers may pass out from excitement... or worse!

SOME OF THE VINTAGE TRAILERS FEATURED IN THE PRE-SHOW REEL:

ZEBRA FORCE (1976)

A group of Vietnam vets, tired of the deprivations of the Mafia on their neighborhood, decide to take on the mob on their own terms--but by using a very different twist.

FORCE FIVE (1981)

A martial-arts expert leads a team of fellow martial artists to rescue a senator's daughter from an island ruled by the evil leader of a fanatical religious cult.

KILL OR BE KILLED (1980)

Two former ranking figures of the Axis powers schedule a deadly martial arts tournament in an isolated locale. The two rivals then race to assemble the top competitors from around the world, with Steve Chase being the most sought after fighter.

THE 18 BRONZE MEN (1976)

During the Manchurian invasion of China, the son of the Ming Dynasty General takes refuge in the Shaolin Temple to learn martial arts, so that he may seek revenge for his dead father. But he must first endure the rigorous test of the temple's legendary 18 Bronzemen.

THE GREAT TEXAS DYNAMITE CHASE (1976)

Explosive drama and action when two sexy girls go on a bank robbing binge.

POLICEWOMEN (1974) A lady cop infiltrates an all-female criminal gang.

WOMEN IN CAGES (1971)

Carol Jeffries (known as 'Jeff') is a naive American woman staying in the Phillipines. She is given ten years in prison after being set up by her drug-dealer boyfriend, Rudy. She endures the harsh conditions, sadistic head matron and attempts on her life, then convinces her cell-mates to try to escape with her through the jungle, in spite of the knowledge that ruthless trackers will be sent out after them.

GINGER (1971)

The police suspect that a drug and forced-prostitution ring is behind the recent spate of kidnappings and disappearances, but so far they've been unable to infiltrate the suspects gang. To break the case, they recruit Ginger, a young woman from an upper-class family to act as bait for the kidnappers and hopefully lead the police to their hideout. It may sound like a foolproof plan to the police, but Ginger's the one who has to risk it all.

DESPERATE LIVING (1977)

A rich housewife murders her husband with the help of her overweight maid and the two go on the run, ending up in Mortville, a town providing refuge for criminals. They shack up with a lesbian ex-wrestler and her murderess lover, before running into the tyrannical Queen Carlotta, ruler of Mortville.

LANDMARK'S BRIDGE THEATRE: 3010 Geary Blvd, San Francisco, Ca General admission $9.75; child/senior $7.75; Student (mon-thurs only) $7.75
Box Office Line: 415 751-3213 advance tickets: in person at the box office or via moviefone.com
{moscomment}